Meanings of “remote gambling”, “remote communication”, etc.

5.—(1) In this Act, “remote gambling” means gambling in which a person participates by the use of remote communication, even if the gambling is done only partly by means of remote communication.

(2) In this Act, “remote communication” means communication through —

- (a) the Internet;
- (b) telephone;
- (c) television or radio; or
- (d) any other kind of electronic or other technology for facilitating communication, but does not include any specific system or method of communication that the Minister declares, by order in the Gazette, is not to be treated as remote communication for the purposes of this Act.

(3) In this Act, a “remote gambling service” means a gambling service provided to customers for them to participate in gambling by the use of remote communication.

(4) In this Act, a person provides a remote gambling service where the person does any of the following in the course of carrying on a business:

- (a) provides facilities for remote gambling by others in accordance with arrangements made by the person;
- (b) organises, manages or supervises remote gambling by others in accordance with arrangements made by the person, which may include inviting others to gamble, or placing, making, receiving or accepting bets, using remote communication in accordance with those arrangements;

- (f) uses a document, device, piece of equipment or other thing for the purposes of enabling remote gambling by others to take place in accordance with arrangements made by the person.

(5) For the purposes of this Act, a person provides facilities for remote gambling if the person makes facilities for remote communication available for use, being facilities which are adapted or presented in such a way as to facilitate, or to draw attention to the possibility of, their use for gambling, and the nature, adaptation or presentation of the facilities is such that —

- (a) they cannot reasonably be expected to be used for purposes other than gambling; or
- (b) they are intended to be used wholly or partly for gambling.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (4) or (5), it does not matter whether facilities for remote gambling are provided —

- (a) only partly by means of remote communication; or
- (b) outside Singapore or partly inside and partly outside Singapore.

(7) However, a person does not provide a remote gambling service or provide facilities for remote gambling, and is not an agent referred to in section 9(1) or (2), merely because the person provides, or operates facilities for network access, or provides services relating to, or provides connections for, the transmission or routing of data.

(8) For the purposes of this Act —

- (a) a remote gambling service has a foreign-customer link if none of the customers is physically present in Singapore, whether or not an individual who is physically present in Singapore is capable of becoming a customer of that service; and
- (b) a remote gambling service has a Singapore-customer link if any of the customers is physically present in Singapore, and in determining for the purposes of paragraph (a) whether an individual who is physically present in Singapore is capable of becoming a customer of a service, it is to be assumed that the individual will not falsify or conceal the individual's identity or location.

(9) For the purposes of this Act, a remote gambling service is a Singapore-based remote gambling service if —

- (a) the service is provided in the course of carrying on a business in Singapore;
- (b) the central management and control of the service is in Singapore; or
- (c) where the service is provided to customers using an Internet carriage service, all or any of the relevant Internet content is hosted in Singapore.

(10) In subsection (9)(c), “relevant Internet content”, in relation to a remote gambling service, means Internet content that is accessed, or available for access, by an end-user in the capacity of a customer of that remote gambling service.

Definitions for remote gambling advertising, etc.

6.—(1) In this Act, a “remote gambling service advertisement” means any writing, still or moving picture, sign, symbol (whether 3-dimensional or 2-dimensional) or other visual image, or any audible message, or any combination of 2 or more of those things, that gives publicity to, or otherwise promotes or is intended to promote —

- (a) a particular remote gambling service;
- (b) remote gambling services in general;
- (c) a domain name or uniform resource locator (URL) that relates to a particular remote gambling service; or
- (d) any words that are closely associated with a particular remote gambling service (whether or not also closely associated with other kinds of services or products), unless excluded by the Minister by an order published in the Gazette.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, a person publishes a remote gambling service advertisement if the person does any of the following things:

- (a) the person includes the advertisement, or something that contains the advertisement, on an online location or in any way that renders the advertisement accessible from the Internet;
- (b) the person includes the advertisement in a newspaper, magazine, leaflet, ticket or other document that is available, or distributed, to the public or a section of the public;
- (c) the person includes the advertisement in a film, video, television programme or radio programme that is, or is intended to be, seen or heard by the public or a section of the public;
- (d) the person displays, screens or plays the advertisement, or something that contains the advertisement, so that it can be seen or heard in or from a public place, any vehicle, vessel, train or aircraft or any workplace;
- (e) the person sells, hires or supplies the advertisement, or something containing the advertisement, to the public or a section of the public, or offers the advertisement, or something containing the advertisement, for sale or supply to, or hire by, the public or a section of the public;

- (f) the person makes known the advertisement to the public or a section of the public in any other manner or by any other means.

(3) However, none of the following, of itself, amounts to publication of a remote gambling service advertisement:

- (a) the communication of information that is or includes a remote gambling service advertisement to a group of people all of whom are involved in the provision of remote gambling services;
- (b) the publication in a telephone directory of the name of a person who provides a remote gambling service unless —
 - (i) the publication is on the Internet; and
 - (ii) the entry for the person contains a link to an online location for the person that relates to the remote gambling service;
- (c) an index of online search results which links or refers an end-user in Singapore to remote gambling services or facilities for the access or use of remote gambling services, which is made available to that person only because that person initiates a search through an online information location service, such as but not limited to a search engine service;
- (d) any other activity specified or described by the Minister in an order published in the Gazette.

(4) For the purposes of this Act, a person promotes remote gambling if —

- (a) the person does anything to encourage one or more persons to take advantage (whether directly or through an agent) of facilities for remote gambling;
- (b) with a view to increasing the use of facilities for remote gambling, the person brings those facilities or information about those facilities to the attention of one or more persons; or
- (c) the person participates in or facilitates an activity knowing or believing that it is designed —
 - (i) to encourage one or more persons to take advantage (whether directly or through an agent) of facilities for remote gambling;or

- (ii) to increase the use of facilities for remote gambling by bringing those facilities or information about those facilities to the attention of one or more persons, but that person does not promote remote gambling merely because that person publishes a remote gambling service advertisement.

(5) In subsection (1), “words” includes abbreviations, initials and numbers.

Purpose of Act

7. The purpose of this Act is to regulate remote gambling and remote gambling services affecting Singapore with the object of —

- (a) preventing remote gambling from being a source of crime or disorder, being associated with crime or disorder or being used to support crime or disorder; and
- (b) protecting young persons and other vulnerable persons from being harmed or exploited by remote gambling.

PART 2

- (e) taken such other measures as far as reasonably practicable to ensure that the service did not, or could not reasonably have, a Singapore-customer link.

(4) In determining whether any measure taken by a person under subsection (3)(e) is reasonably practicable, it is for that person to prove that —

- (a) it was not reasonably practicable to do more than what was in fact done; and

(2) A reference in subsection (1) to inviting a young person to gamble by means of remote communication includes, in particular, a reference to —

- (a) intentionally sending to the young person any remote gambling service advertisement; or
- (b) intentionally bringing to the attention of the young person information about remote gambling with a view to encouraging the young person to gamble by means of remote communication.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), it does not matter whether or not the gambling actually carried out by a young person —

- (a) is the same as that in the invitation; or
- (b) is in the manner so invited, provided that the gambling actually carried out is a probable consequence of that invitation.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (1), it also does not matter whether the gambling done or to be done by a young person pursuant to an invitation is only partly by means of remote communication or is partly inside and partly outside Singapore.

accidental or incidental accompaniment to the publication of other matter not forming part of any promotion of remote gambling; and

- (b) the person does not receive any direct or indirect benefit (whether financial or not) for publishing that advertisement, in addition to any direct or indirect benefit that the person receives for publishing that other matter.

(3) Where a person is charged with an offence under section 15(1), it is also a defence for the person charged to prove that —
